Even in the absence of AWAG's Founder Secretary Shri Ilaben, my association with the organization has remained unshakable and has in fact only strengthened. Like always, with the gratifying support of the team at AWAG, the organization was able to perform its commitments towards women's awareness and empowerment. Moreover, in order to sustain the work approach advocated by the Founder Secretary, research initiatives related to domestic violence that could serve beneficial in policy-making, were also undertaken in course of the year.

Through consensus among the Trust committee as well as effective participation of the team members, I am confident that the organization's work will continue on the above lines in future also.

MENTAL HEALTHCARE OF WOMEN

The 'Mental Health Project' has been functioning since December 2008. A pilot study on mental health of women was undertaken in 2004-2006 and the project continued further from September 2007 to August 2008, in the same areas viz Bapunagar, Rakhial, Gomtipur, Saraspur and Ramol. To continue benefiting these women who needed medical support and counselling services, AWAG got an opportunity to extend its help by continuing its work of the said project in the same areas, followed by the same objectives and activities.

The main objectives are:

- a) To provide counselling and psychiatric support to persons suffering from mental illnesses,
- b) To strengthen women suffering from Domestic Violence to have better quality of life.

The following activities were undertaken to fulfil these objectives -

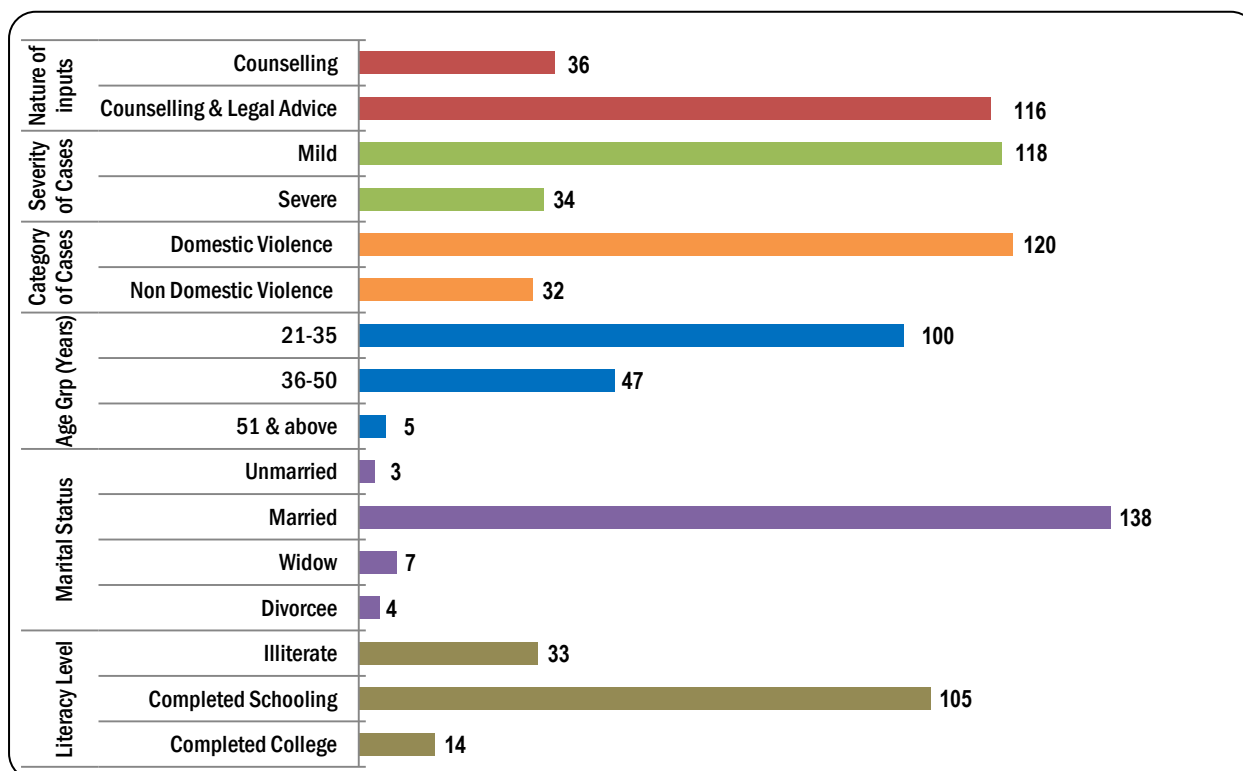

- Approaching communities to disseminate awareness about mental health through community leaders.
- Guiding the patients to the path of curative treatment.
- Counselling
- Psychiatric care with medicines.
- Group therapy through workshops.

The awareness raising meetings were conducted in the areas of Bapunagar, Rakhial, Gomtipur, Saraspur and Ramol. A total of 144 meetings that were conducted over the year covered 3683 women. The theme of the meetings was to provide a general understanding of mental disorders and the need to treat them for a healthy living.

Consequently, a total of 152 cases were identified and were referred to AWAG's mental health centre, the details of which are graphically represented below.

All the 34 severe cases sought help with regular follow-ups. A majority of women suffered from depression including both depressed state as well as clinical depression which needed short-term and long-term medication respectively. The rest experienced various psychiatric illnesses. This required more medical provision which was supplied by AWAG. Dr. Ajay Chauhan helped by providing medicines from the local Hospital for Mental Health, Dilli Darwaja, Ahmedabad.

The group therapy in the form of awareness-raising workshops has been very beneficial in providing openness and acceptance of personal issues and dealing with them more effectively. A total of 3 workshops that were conducted during the year covering a total of 87 participants, has equipped the women to...

- Start saying “NO” to violence,
- Learn skills to cope with and reduce the level of stress,
- Gain better health through medical help,
- Seek advice from legal counsellor, etc.

On the whole, awareness among women has spread at a faster pace and many women have been benefited through the process. Women have gained an understanding of living a better quality of life by strongly facing the hurdles that come by. Counselling has provided better coping skills and a supportive environment where they feel empowered.

MENTAL HEALTHCARE OF ADOLESCENTS

The Mental Health Project for Adolescents, undertaken by AWAG commenced in September 2008. With common adolescent issues identified as adjustment problems, relationship issues, negative attitude towards marriage, educational issues, low self-esteem, family issues etc., the project makes an attempt to reach out to the adolescent group both in community as well as in schools to work in the related areas, which causes immense stress and conflicts in the family. To resolve the effects caused in various areas of adolescents, the project focuses on particular objectives as mentioned below:

- a) To identify psychological problems prevailing among adolescents.
- b) To intervene among adolescents so that they develop better coping skills to have a better quality of life.
- c) To provide psycho-education to parents where need arises.
- d) To train teachers of schools in Bapunagar in providing support to adolescents.
- e) To hold hands of teachers and monitor their performance.

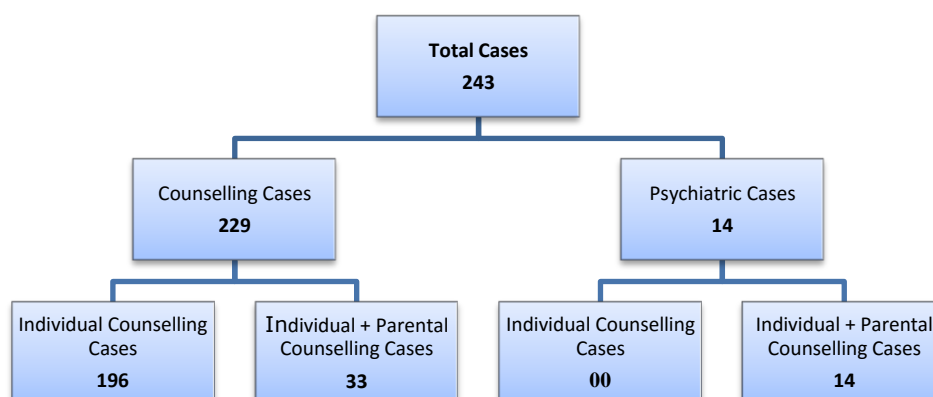

In order to fulfil these objectives, the following activities were undertaken:

- Approaching schools to contact adolescents enrolled
- Approaching communities to contact non-school going and dropped out adolescents.
- Adolescents to be guided towards the curative path
- Counselling
- Psycho-education of parents
- Psychiatric care with medicines
- Teachers training for care of adolescents
- Monitoring of Teachers' performance

The project intervention had a two-pronged approach to reach out to the adolescents so as to provide them with a better understanding of mental health leading them towards cure through counselling and medical help as per need. Due attention was paid to providing more strength and support to the adolescents by working with both parents and teachers by making them more aware of their problems and developing a better understanding of the same.

To start with, awareness raising meetings were organized with the help of community leaders and school authorities whereby AWAG conducted a total of 280 meetings covering 3595 adolescents.

A total of 243 cases were counselled, out of which 137 cases approached the centre and 106 cases were intervened with in the school by the counsellor. A summary of these cases is depicted below.

To categorize further, of the total cases, 123 belonged to the age group of 12-15 years with the remaining 120 in the age group of 16-20 years. School-going adolescents (189) constitute a majority of these cases, while the count of school drop-outs amounts to 45 and that of non school-going adolescents amounts to 9.

Additionally, a total of 22 teachers from two schools underwent training workshops conducted by psychologists and psychotherapists. The objectives of the workshop were as follows:

- a) To create awareness about mental health
- b) To sensitize teachers to the psychological needs of the adolescent students so as to support them.
- c) To provide possible primary psychological and emotional help in academics, family issues etc.

Regular monitoring and follow-up of teachers was also conducted by AWAG. Likewise, in counselling cases, parents were provided with suitable suggestions to improve the mental health of their children.

The resultant effect of AWAG's interventions with adolescents over the year is that the affected children, their parents and teachers have gained considerable awareness regarding the psychological problems prevailing among adolescents. Moreover, through training workshops and counselling sessions, they have developed skills to cope effectively with their lives wherein the children experience a warm, secure and a healthy environment.

AWARENESS ABOUT MENSTRUAL HEALTH AND SANITATION AMONG ADOLESCENT GIRLS AND WOMEN

Through our direct work with women in the villages of Radhanpur in Patan district of Gujarat, a pressing need was identified as that of basic personal hygiene. Women had cited problems and health issues relating to their menstrual cycle. Discussing this issue is considered to be a social taboo in the society at large and women cannot openly share the matter with others. It is common for women to use old rags, sand and straw for menstrual protection, but such practices lead to major health issues and reproductive tract infections. Lack of knowledge and affordability are common reasons for women to continue using unhygienic practices during menstruation. In majority of the cases women have to choose between menstrual sanitation and food.

In view of this, Menstrual Health and Sanitation Awareness Workshops were held each month at the village level wherein the topics of discussions centred around...

- Awareness on health and hygiene of women related to menstrual health
- Problems related to menstruation
- Common, local beliefs and practices during menstruation
- Care during menses
- Use and disposal of sanitary napkins

These workshops that were held across 28 villages had the participation of a total of 1040 adolescent girls and women from the local communities. The sessions were interactive and have been instrumental in creating a realization of adopting menstrual hygiene among women and adolescents.

Some responses that were expressed by participants after the meetings are as under:

Through this meeting we learnt about....

- The importance to use of sanitary napkins which is better than using cloth
- Information regarding the fertility cycle that is helpful in planning pregnancy
- Intake of iron capsules to increase blood count among women
- Misconceptions about contraceptive pills such as Mala-D

- Maintaining hygiene of cloth and other materials used during menstruation
- Occurrence of white discharge
- The importance of sharing true knowledge about menstruation with young girls who are not aware about it

To sum up, it can be said that though the communities are steeped into conventional customs and traditions, the younger generation is slowly and steadily opening up to new and more importantly hygienic practices as a result of which we hope to mitigate the occurrence of reproductive ailments among the participating communities. The ASHA Workers and Anganwadi Workers in the areas are also playing a supportive role in this intervention.
